Winter Weekend Opens Tonight

Brigadoon Plays To Weekenders

Welcome to Winter Weekend 1964.

The schedule of events is as follows:

Friday Night - "Brigadoon", followed by an informal dance featuring the Delta's.

Saturday - An Afternoon at Stowe. Dancing at the Town and Country Motel.

Saturday Night-Sno-Ball (Semi-Formal dance featuring the Bert Orr Quintet)

Sunday - Mass followed by Brunch, an interclass hockey game and public skating.

This year's Sno-Ball will feature the music of the Bert Orr Quintet, a group characterized by its versatility in playing any type of dancing tempo. Featured in the group is Doug Tyler, who in addition to his work on Tenor sax, also double s on flute, clarinet, and baritone sax.

Margie Horton provides the vocal entertainment for the evening. The group has appeared throughout the Eastern United States.

Providing the entertainment for Saturday afternoon at Stowe will be the guitar sound of the Norsemen. The group hails from Middlebury College and caters to the college crowd.

The Deltas will be featured Friday night following the performance of "Brigadoon."

For those of you who enjoy the outdoors there will be plenty of excitement at Stowe.

The skiing is excellent and there are many exciting and unusual places to visit. Included in places to see are the Octagon and the Trapp Family Lodge. For those of you who don't ski, a ride on the chair lift offers an impressive view of scenic Vermont. The less adventurous couple will enjoy the hospitality of the Town and Country Motel.

Dress for the Weekend will be informal with the exception of the Sno-Ball.

Co-Chairmen of this year's Winter Weekend are Seniors Don Cipriano and Mike Burns.

Four Area Colleges Form Inter-School Council

The first attempt at forming new relationships between SMC, Trinity College, Champlain College and UVM took place Sunday, at the University of Vermont.

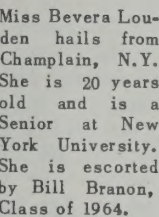

Those attending were; Michael P. Smith, President of the St. Michael's College Student Forum; Frank J. Geier, President of the Junior Class at St. Michael's; Dick Paye, President of the University of Vermont Student Association; Dick Badger, Treasurer of the University of Vermont Student Association; Larry Veladota, President of the Student Government of Champlain College; and Marion Daggett, President of the Junior Class at Trinity College.

In an attempt to start the ball rolling on a proposed Inter-Collegiate Council, Dick Paye invited the above for an informal

President Lauds Progress In Academics, Activities

Forum Reporter

On Thursday night, December 12, the first annual Christmas Awards Banquet was held in Alliot Hall. The focus of the evening was progress, appraising the past and prophesying the future of St. Michael's College.

The high point was an address by the Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, President of the college, which emphasized this theme of progress in all of the concerns of the college community.

Fr. Dupont began by saying that the banquet was "a good way to focus attention on the many activities of the college."

He stressed that since the decision 12 years ago to improve the college and to make it the best, there has been a marked improvement in the physical plant, the curriculum, and the faculty, which is believed to be one of the best available. The student body has improved, according to the President, as most entering students now come from the upper 50% of their high school classes.

The progress and the improvement of the college were also pointed out in the co- and extra-curricular activities. Fr. Dupont was emphatic in pointing out the value of these activities in the life of the student at the college. He complimented the Student Forum for its "improved conduct and role in the last few years".

He also singled out The MICHAELMAN and said that he would "rank The MICHAELMAN among the best student publications."

He went on to commend the Glee Club, the Dramatic society, the Drill Team, WSSE, and all of the intramural sports.

The president said that the reason for these activities was twofold; first to offer release for the students from their "arduous task" of studying, which statement drew some laughter from the audience, and secondly, to develop social and leadership abilities in the student body.

He closed by saying that the student body has come of age, except for what he termed the "three per centers." These students garner the unfavorable publicity, while the remainder of the students are upright members of the college community and add to its advancement.

Following the address by Fr. Dupont, the business of the evening, presenting the awards for the activities of the first semester, was begun. The first two awards were the announcements of the

Giant Steps Taken On Chapel, Library

St. Michael's College this week took giant steps toward getting its next two buildings.

Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E., the college president, disclosed that bids went out Wednesday for the chapel with the expectancy it will be ready before the Class of 1965 graduates. The bids will be opened Tuesday, Feb. 25 at 2 in the president's office. Ground will be broken in late March or early April.

Fr. Dupont who was at Washington most of the week for the meeting of the American Council on Education spent last Friday with Fr. Morin in New York City, attending a meeting called to explain the Higher Education Facilities Act to college officials.

St. Michael's will ask for a grant of $300,000 to assist it in getting its long needed library, Fr. Dupont said. Under the act, a college can get a grant of one third of the cost. The money, however, is distributed through a committee in each state.

Fr. Dupont went to the meeting to find out the machinery for applying and obtaining the grant. The balance of the cost can be met by long term loans such as have enabled us to build the dormitories and Alliot Hall. The Higher Education Facilities Act marks the first time the federal government has made grants available for libraries.

St. Michael's needs a new library sorely, Fr. Dupont said, because its books are housed in a wooden, surplus building obtained after World War II from Fort Ethan Allen, and since that time, enrollment has increased sharply. So have the demands on the library.

TO FREE SPACE

The new chapel will not only replace the old one in Jemery Hall, built some 40 years ago. It will eventually free space in that building for additional classroom space.

Freeman, French and Freeman, the architects, have planned a building of contemporary design, yet one which incorporates some of the elements already present on the campus. Because our buildings are of brick, that will be the principal material. The brick will be the same material as those in the new main gates. The prestressed concrete pylons at the gates were used there to suggest the same materials that will provide accent to the chapel exterior.

The interior of the chapel will find the focus on the granite altar. The lighting, natural and artificial, has been planned to highlight the center of worship. Light will stream down from the windows in the lantern above the altar. The sanctuary floor will be marble while quarry tile will be used on the floor in the main part of the chapel.

The chapel, to be built between Alliot and Founders Hall, will be the dominant building on the campus. The library will be adjacent to the dormitory quadrangle.

Mike Martin also presented the

THE WEEKLY STUDENT NEWSPAPER OF ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE, WINOOSKI PARK, VERMONT

As is noted in a front-page story this week, the foundation for an Inter-Collegiate Council was laid last week at a meeting of student representatives of the four Burlington area colleges.

The idea, which originated in the St. Michael's College Student Forum three months ago following the successful joint planning by the four colleges of the student reception accorded the then Vice-President Johnson when he visited the area in October, is a good one - and one we would like to see brought to a quick and meaningful fruition. Its potential as a positive good for all concerned will be limited only by the calibre of those chosen to serve as its officers.

Tentative projects for the Council have already been suggested including such practical ones as the formation of a special "scheduling committee" which would meet at sometime in the spring of each year to fix non-conflicting dates for each of the member colleges' major social events. This idea alone, if carried out effectively, would make the Council well worth having.

Other ideas discussed at the group's first meeting included joint civic projects which the schools could undertake to bolster the "image" of college students in the Burlington area, and the possibility of jointly-sponsored academic and cultural events open to students and public alike.

The new year has begun well.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER DEPARTMENT

We ran into an old buddy somewhere in that endless registration line last September and were promptly hit up for a small loan - and we haven't been able to find him since. But now there's hope - the annual winter edition of the Student Directory has arrived.

While we commend and appreciate this handy reference work as an invaluable asset to the campus, we wonder why it is that the Directory never seems to arrive on the scene until long after the snows have begun to crowd the window sills. One must admit that the usefulness of such a handbook diminishes as the academic year progresses.

We wonder if it might not be a good idea for the Forum to consider the appointment of a Directory Committee in the spring months, which committee's duty it would be to plan the booklet and to arrange for its printing to be done in September as soon as the student body is settled in the dormitories.

OVERHEARD BUT OVERLOOKED THIS WEEK

Asked a senior who can remember when: "What ever happened to the Lecture Series?"

*****

The Burlington Free Press, in a "think-piece" editorial published just a day before Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, Right-Ariz. announced his dual candidacy for the up-for-grabs Republican Presidential nomination and his own up-for-renewal Senate seat, said: "Goldwater seemingly must decide between running for the Presidency and seeking re-election to the Senate. ... Of course, if Goldwater wasn't so politically honest, he could resort to the infamous 'Johnson maneuver'. In 1960, Lyndon B. Johnson ran for re-election to the U.S. Senate and for the Vice-Presidency at the same time."

*****

And historian Henry Steele Commager, in a recent New York Times Magazine article on the current political scene, wrote: "In 1913 Woodrow Wilson said that the Republican party had not had a new idea for 50 years. Now it is 100 years."

THE MAIL BAG

To the Editor:

This is an official position concerning a problem which exists at this school.

The problem is the school clocks and their chronic inability to keep correct time. This inaccuracy between St. Michael's Time and Eastern Standard Time causes a great deal of confusion, especially when one is coming to the dining hall.

We know of many instances when one leaves the dormitory at least ten minutes before the meal is supposed to end and finds himself late for the meal and unable to eat. This causes a great deal of hard feelings on both sides.

The obvious answer is to fix the clocks. Since this seems to be beyond the ability of anyone on campus, all are urged to remember the following: the wall clock in the dining hall is the official school time. By that clock the doors to the dining hall will be opened and will be closed. No one will be allowed in the dining hall once that clock has said that the meal is over. So, to avoid confusion, please set your watches by this clock and keep them set by this clock.

Abbott

This week's Dear Abbott column does not appear in its usual form because of the inability of the "steeple on the Church" to function humorously on anything other than humorous subjects,--- the most humorous being...? So, until the next edition, by when I hope to have discovered another humorous topic, I remain yours truly, Abbott... gone to pot.

The Forum

By BILL EAGAN
Forum Reporter

The emphasis of this week's meeting of the Student Forum was on upcoming social events of the campus. These ranged from the Forum-sponsored Winter Weekend to several fund raising dances to be sponsored by the classes. All of the measures passed with the usual stolid acceptance of the members.

Donald Cipriano reported that the Winter Weekend tickets were moving very slowly, but that they had been split in order to make them move faster. The Forum President, Mike Smith, urged all members of the Forum to support this event, since the Forum is sponsoring it. Cipriano stated that the ticket sales were far from encouraging at the time of the report.

SOPHOMORES ADVANCE "MONETARY PROGRAM"

The Sophomore Class then took the floor to advance its monetary program for the coming year. Ted Beenis began the parade by asking permission for his class to hold a dance following the SMC-Merrimack basketball game. He was informed that the Trinity College girls were going home that day, but he decided his class could forge on without their assistance.

Bud Abbott was next to present a portion of this Sophomore program by requesting permission to hold a dance on Feb. 6. The motion was approved without dissent. The final segment of the comprehensive program was the request by class president Henry Amoroso for permission to hold a magazine drive. He stated that the matter had been investigated and that it would not be attempted in the immediate area, mindful of the lesson of the Class of '64.

Dissent began to appear among the complacent members when Frank Stratford asked that the Junior Class be allowed to close Alliot Hall on Jan. 25. There was a half-hearted effort to ascertain if this had been prohibited last year, but the effort died before it could be coaxed into a ground swell by some of the members. A symbolic negative vote was registered and then the Forum turned to more weighty matters.

SKATING RINK BENCHES?

The representative of the Chemistry Society, James Davidson, moved that the Student Welfare Committee investigate the possibility of having benches placed at each of the skating rinks on campus. The motion was sent to the committee after Mr. Davidson explained that it was too cold to sit down in order to put on skates.

The murmurs of dissent finally broke to the surface when the Education Club representative requested $50 for ten speakers at its next meeting. James Kraut explained that this would be a considerable saving over the usual $25 per speaker fee. He failed to point out that the speakers were to be students, former student teachers, which fact was brought out in subsequent discussion of the measure. The members of the Forum decided that this would not do, so they defeated the motion, conceding that at some future date the idea would be interesting for them to consider for themselves, such as a banquet.

Just before the meeting adjourned, James Kraut, Education Club representative, read an "open letter" to the Forum on behalf of six Seniors who had remained on campus during the first week of the Christmas holidays, while student teaching in the Burlington area.

In the surprise move, Kraut complained that the six had been denied dining hall facilities during the week and raised the question of why this had been done.

No immediate action on the matter was taken by the Forum since the letter was presented as a complaint and did not call for an investigation or other action.

Father Gokey later commented: "The one sided representation of the facts expressed in the Forum for the first time when nothing could be done about it and in such bad taste is destructive of the atmosphere of mutual respect and achievement which have so far characterized this year's Student Forum".

The Interclass standings as of the last available date were: Seniors, 95, Juniors, 57.5, Sophomores, 30, and Freshmen, 32.5.

LETTERS

This newspaper's columns are open to any student or faculty member who wishes to express his views on any subject. All letters to this newspaper should be delivered by Monday evening preceding publication. All letters must be signed and must be limited to 250 words or less.

NOTICE

Francis J. Larkin, Assistant Dean of Boston College Law School, will be here Jan. 23 to discuss the Law profession.

The meeting will be at 2:30 P.M. in Jemery 46. All interested students are invited to attend.

To the Editor:

We extend our heartfelt thanks to the many students who assisted us in cleaning St. Edmund's Hall after the explosion of Nov. 25. We appreciate this spontaneous display of the great SMC spirit.

Sculptor, Violinist, Drama Group Reviewed

Statuary Exhibit And Concert Open Big Week

By PADRAIC K. RYAN
and RONALD A. SUDOL

St. Michael's was treated this week to a double-barreled cultural program. Belle Bellerose exhibited an inspiring array of sculpture and Hyman Bress enthralled an enthusiastic, though undersized audience Sunday in the Playhouse.

Mrs. Bellerose, a native Vermonter, has returned to the state and resides in Colchester after having lived and studied in France, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Maryland. The exhibit in Alliot Hall featured 26 recent and earlier sculptures in different media.

SCULPTOR AND VIOLINIST REVIEWS

THE SCULPTURE EXHIBIT

The sculpture was viewed with mixed but pleased emotions. Most reactions were very enthusiastic while others were more subdued in their appreciation. The gallery was visited at almost any moment of the day, but usually during the dinner hours.

"MEDUSA", done in carved limestone, and "TORSO", modeled directly in plaster and metal were easily the favorites of the exhibit. "PROTECTION", "CHILD'S HEAD" and "NED" also attracted outstanding attention.

Mrs. Bellerose has had her works exhibited at the National Academy of Design in New York City and throughout the East. Among a score of awards she has a Gold Medal for Sculpture from the Society of Washington Artists.

BRESS CONCERT

Mr. Bress' concert consisted of works by Brahms, Bach, Mozart, and Saint Saens. He was thrilling to watch as well as thrilling to listen to. Violinists are not restricted as to position as a pianist is, and their faces do not blow out into a mass of scowls as trumpeter's faces do. Instead a violinist can sweep back and forth magnificently holding his instrument in a loving embrace.

Mr. Bress is not an exception, and his performance was quite impressive. Not so impressive were several technical aspects of the concert namely the music light on the piano which glared brightly and irritatingly into the eyes of the audience.

Mr. Bress, a Canadian citizen, was born in Capetown, South Africa. He made his debut at the age of nine and later won a scholarship to the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. He has appeared on radio and television and with the Royal Philharmonic and with other orchestras throughout the world. His excellent accompanist was Donal Nold.

AND MORE TO COME

In the Art Department there will be at the end of March an exhibit of the student artists. Information can be obtained from the department.

On the musical side, the St. Michael's Glee Club will present the first campus concert of 1964 on Feb. 3, at 8 P.M. in Austin Hall.

"Brigadoon" Revived And Draws SRO Crowds Again

By RONALD A. SUDOL
Drama Reporter

The revival of Brigadoon was presented at a sold-out, limited engagement this week. The new edition of the Lerner and Loewe musical was not revamped in any significant way, and it still had most of the luster and charm of the original performance on Nov. 21.

Two other scheduled performances in November were cancelled because of the death of President Kennedy, Nov. 22, leaving the Drama Department's treasury almost empty and leaving some 600 ticket-holders disappointed. Glowing reports from the first-night audience and the cast's anxiety to do the show again resulted in a meeting of college officials on Jan. 7.

Mr. John Buchan, business manager, reported that $800 would be needed to stage three additional performances including one for participants in the Winter Weekend. This figure includes $335 for the musicians, $75 for programs and tickets, $250 for costume rental, $85 for royalties, and $55 in contingencies.

Half of the budget of the defunct Debating club nets $500; Winter Weekend budget, $100; and fines from the Student Welfare Fund, $200. Incidentally, this last assessment leaves the Student Welfare Fund virtually empty, and there are ominous rumors of a great need of student fines to refill it.

Presenting a revival of a musical play eight weeks after its first and only performance, the cast faced certain difficulties. Believing that they remembered less than they thought they did, Mr. Rathgeb called for a week of rehearsals before last Wednesday.

John Durkin, playing the starring role of Tommy Albright, said that he had been reading the script every third day and listening carefully to the original cast

Probably echoing the sentiments of the entire cast, Mr. Durkin said that he loved performing in Brigadoon despite the enormous amount of work involved and that he had already acquired the experience of one actual performance and could go into the next three with greater confidence.

THE CAST

Cancer Society Awards $1,900 To Hartnett

The American Cancer Society, Vermont Division, approved at its midyear meeting Thursday a grant of $1900 to Dr. John C. Hartnett, professor of Biology at St. Michael's College.

The grant will help him continue research begun while he was a doctoral candidate at the University of Vermont. Announcement of the grant was made by Dr. James Woodruff, Randolph, chairman of the Board of Trustees and president of the Vermont Division.

Dr. Woodruff said the project had been evaluated by the National Research Council, American Cancer Society, and had been given a very high rating.

The grant, to be used this year, will enable Dr. Hartnett to study further the protein digesting, peptide bond-splitting mechanism of an enzyme recently isolated by Dr. Hartnett and Dr. E.C. Gjessing of the University.

versity.

Dr. Hartnett said the immediate significance of the project is that it should provide data that may lead to a better understanding of the mechanism involved in the hydrolysis of protein (polypeptides) peptide bonds. Protein degradation is an intrinsic part of cell growth and development. There is a possibility, based on preliminary observations, he said, that some of the peptide residues, resulting from the hydrolysis of the poly L-glutamic acid substrate may inhibit the enzyme.

Dr. Hartnett, one of the first teachers in the country to have taught Biochemistry on an undergraduate level, has been a member of St. Michael's faculty for 20 years.

He earned his Bachelor of Science (Biology) degree from St. Michael's in 1943; his Master of Science degree (Biochemistry) from the University of Vermont in 1947, and his Ph.D. in Biochemistry from the University last year.

The project was started by Dr. Hartnett in the laboratories at St. Michael's under support from a faculty research grant from the college.

The last award of the evening was presented by the master of ceremonies, Bill Jack. He prefaced the presentation with some remarks on the refreshing humor of the recipient. The award was the "needle of humor" award given to Senior Brian Kelly for his outstanding sense of fun.

The last event of the evening was a fitting counterpoint for the address by the President of the college. This was the showing of the movie entitled "The St. Michael's story." # FM Rigs Replace Campus TV Aerials

Electronic -- FM -- Wave Strikes The Quadrangle

By WILLIAM R. TROY
Staff Listener

Of late it has been noticed that many television-aerial-like protrusions have appeared jutting from students' dorm windows, so The MICHAELMAN thought it apropos to say a word or two about the causes of these weird looking devices (lest they be misconstrued as emanating from TV sets, necessitating another room inspection as in the famous "Sugar Bowl Crisis" of '62). In reality, they are not television aerials at all, but antennae for the ever-increasing number of FM radios on campus.

In case you are not aware of it, the FM radio is quite different from the AM. A quasi-technical explanation follows: in AM transmission, the amplitude, or height, of the sound wave is modulated, whereas in FM, the frequency is modulated. Also, the retarder is reduced by one-half, the inverter is reverted, and the frammis is shortened by 2.46 inches. All this combines to give a hi-fidelity, static-free reception which AM listeners do not experience.

It may be of small interest to some that the Air Force makes station originating in Montreal, Quebec; carries an equal amount of vocal and popular orchestral music;

At 94.9, WMTW, from Poland Spring, Maine; this station broadcasts mostly in FM Multiplex Stereo; during the day it plays popular music. At night it reverts to classical music from nine to twelve; highlighting its broadcast week is a live broadcast from the Metropolitan Opera House every Saturday afternoon;

CBF at 95.1 mc. broadcasts strictly in French, as it originates in Montreal, and plays classical and semi-classical works;

CJAD, at about 96.2 mc. originates from Montreal and features a wide variety of music;

CKVL, at 96.9 mc., originates in Verdun, Quebec, and offers mostly classical works with a paucity of commercial messages; this is the station that one may hear occasionally in Alliot Hall;

At about 98.4 mc. is CKGM, a new French station which plays predominantly classical and semi-classical arrangements;

At 98.9 mc. WJOY broadcasts from "Burlington, my Burlington," and plays taped shows for most of its broadcast day. Its program schedule has improved over last year's; and it now features a three hour jazz session every Saturday morning for the "cats";

Next we must mention WEAV at 99.9, from Plattsburg, but if you have an AM set which you can tune to WDOT, you needn't even bother with this station;

Again from Montreal comes CBM, at 100.7 mc., another French-only station; like CBF it, too, plays classical and semi-classical music.

Of the above listed stations, all sign off at midnight except CFCF, CJAD, and CKVL; CFCF goes off the air at 1 A.M. and CJAD and CKVL are on all night and morning.

From the above attempt at an outline of the FM stations' programming, one can see that there is a wide selection and that one can find whatever he wants. (As we have already mentioned, there is always WEAV if you like that kind of "music").

Also, the FM set is no longer out of everyone's price range; the Japanese now put out models selling for as little as $24.95, the price of a good AM set.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: DON MacKENZIE

After less than two years with the New England Telephone Company, Don MacKenzie (A.B., 1958) rose to the position of a supervisor.

One reason for Don's swift rise was his swift start. As a salesman, Don outperformed most of the other fifty salesmen in his office, and contributed a sound idea to reduce paperwork besides.

Based on these achievements, Don was given the job of teaching other salesmen, and has had nearly two-thirds of the company's sales force in his classes. Again, an outstanding contribution! Again, a promotion his reward, this time to his current supervisory position.

Don MacKenzie, like many young men, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

WSSE To Air
Cousy Interview

On Thursday, Jan. 2, Tom Sjostedt and Jerry McDonald of the Sports Department of Radio Station WSSE, along with Technical Director, John McDonald, traveled to the Campus of Boston College for an exclusive interview with former Celtic's ace, Bob Cousy.

Cousy, who is now Head Basketball Coach of the Eagles, was quite frank in a discussion which centered on the subject of both College and Professional Basketball.

The taped interview will be heard Thursday on "Tom and Jerry on Sports" on WSSE at 6:05 P.M.

"I trace it all back to the moment we dashed out on the field to face 'em."

Knights Win 4 Of 5
In Christmas Tourneys
Victorious at Loyola U.

BY M. WICK BURNS
Co-Sports Editor

The Tournament trail, which in the past has not been one which the Knights fared well on, turned out this year to be the place where the team finally began to jell and began to win ball games.

First stop for the Purple

Knights was Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. In the first game they lost to a bigger Wilmington College club, 95-87. They hustled to a four point advantage at the half, but the height advantage in the forecourt took its toll in the second half and the Knights couldn't quite make up the difference. Rich Tarrant was the high scorer in the contest with 31 points in what was to be the first of five in which he broke 30 while the team was on the road. Ed Kryger turned in a fine performance here also with 19 points and Vin Kazalonis had 14. The bench showed its strength also as John Jachym came up with 12 big points in the losing effort.

by Tarrant who had 20 in this contest. Bill Cummins played another fine game as he notched 14 points.

THE LOYOLA TOURNEY

St. Michael's walked off with all the honors in Baltimore as they beat Delaware University and the host team Loyola University in two straight contests. The Knights won over Delaware rather handily by a score of 100-82. Overcoming a height disadvantage was again the big problem in this game but the Knights did so quite efficiently and they never trailed in the ball game. Rich Tarrant poured in another 35 big points to take the scoring honors. Ed Kryger played a big game as he came through with 24 markers. Delaware was led by Sysko, who had 27 points.

Paced by All Tournament selection Ed Kryger, and the Tournament's Most Valuable Player Richië Tarrant, St. Mike's took host Loyola 96-89, to win the Loyola Invitational Tournament. Richie hit for 37 points in this contest to lead the way. He was followed by Kazalonis with 20 and Kryger with 19. Maner led Loyola in the losing cause with 28 points. The big difference in this game was on the foul line. Tarrant collected 21 of 25 points at the charity stripe. Some clutch play by Bill Cummins and John Jachym also help steady the Knights in the closing minutes.

In summing up the tournament play of the team, a marked improvement was quite noticeable. Rich Tarrant played fantastic basketball and obviously has hit his scoring stride. The improvement in the play of Bill Cummins was a great shot in the arm for the squad. Ed Kryger and Brian Quinn played some very good defense and Ed gave the scoring a big boost. The bench played very well and Vin Kazalonis, although hampered by a back injury and limited to the amount of time that he could play, really went to town when he was in there.

Knights Joust the Cadets

By MICHAEL MARTIN
Staff Reporter

Returning from a very rewarding Christmas tour, the men of Markey journeyed to Northfield to face Bob Brannum's Kaydets. Despite the fact that the Norwich team is rebuilding and supposedly weak, a good number of Michaelmen braved the elements to spur the team on to victory. All things considered, the Knights enjoyed a profitable night with a 90-71 triumph.

After an initial 10 minutes that were anything but comfortable for the Purple, the score stood at 29-28 in favor of the visitors. At this point the Knights literally ran their bigger rivals off the court as they produced 21 points while holding the Kaydets to a mere two markers. At the half, the Purple had 50, the Kaydets 30, and Tarrant 23.

During the final 20 minutes, the boys from Norwich were able to whittle a point off our margin of victory, but the real story was Rich Tarrant's 40 point output. It was Tarrant's best total for the season and brought his point per game average up to 27 plus.

Also deserving of mention was the fine work of Eddie Kryger, again a demon off both boards while collecting many fine assists. Phil Taylor managed a feat which is seldom found in items like box scores. His fine defensive work caused the Norwich team to lose the ball seven times due to charging violations.

The Last Hurrah

By MIKE BURNS

After witnessing the horrendous defeat at the hands of Adelphi before vacation, this observer commented that if St. Michael's didn't soon begin to play like a team, it wouldn't have a chance of going to the local candy store much less the N.C.A.A. regionals. However, to my pleasant surprise, and everyone else's, the tournaments brought some very heartening team work as well as individual performances. It is the first time in years that the Christmas trip has been good news for the Purple Knights and it came at a time when it was desperately needed.

In every game there was a distinct height disadvantage, yet they overcame it time and again. The Loyola Tournament, in which we took home all the cookies, besides having Rich Tarrant named as Most Valuable Player and Ed Kryger named to the All Tournament Team, was one in which some very good teams participated, and it is a victory in which we can be quite proud.

The team now seems to have hit its stride, both in scoring and on defense. Rich Tarrant, of course, is a story in himself. The moves and the shots that he has shown under the basket and around the key border on the fantastic. He is currently sporting close to a 30 point per game average and has been named to the All-E.C.A.C. Team the past two weeks in succession. If not the finest, he is at least one of the finest ball players ever seen at St. Michael's or any other Vermont school. In his Junior year, he has a chance at the all-time scoring record and all-time point per game average here at SMC. He is definitely the finest player that I have ever seen in action and with still another season to go in his collegiate career, bigger and better things will most likely be coming from our Richard the "Robot."

The rest of the squad also has been coming into its own over the past three weeks. Ed Kryger had a great tourney. He has been a demon on defense and has consistently hit double figures. The improved play of Bill Cummins, who was given Honorable Mention on the E.C.A.C. squad this past week for his fine play against Norwich and UMass., has been a real shot in the arm to the ball club. The Senior surprise, John Jachym, has played some excellent clutch ball in the past few games. He also earned an E.C.A.C. honorable mention.

Sophomore Phil Taylor is beginning to come into his own also, picking up that very important experience which is about all that he lacks to be a great ball player. Brian Quinn is in the process of becoming an all around threat. He has been hampered somewhat by being forced to play both the backcourt and up front due to Vin Kazalonis' back injury. But he has done quite well in both places. Kaz is still a question mark as far as when he will be able to play again. It is hoped that he will be back in a week or so, but it is not known for sure.

*****

Between now and January 31 when we play our next home game, Markey and his men will have to play three very big contests. The first is at the University of New Hampshire on the 17th, then a real big one with St. Anselm's on the 20th. This one will have a lot to do with our chances at a tourney berth. And finally, the game at LeMoyne on the 25th. All of these teams are always tough ones and we need the wins badly if we are to impress anyone very much.

*****

The game against UMass was probably as thrilling as anyone could ask for. It had about everything in it. I think that it was one of our finest efforts thus far and it really was a heartbreak to have to lose it after the great exhibition that we put on. UMass. played a very fine ball game also. Bernard and O'Rourke were sensational. As far as we were concerned, I think that Jim Dooley deserves praise for his rough work under the boards and key baskets. Ed Kryger also played one of his finest ball games as did Phil Taylor and Bill Cummins. Tarrant impressed everybody in the east with his 39 points against double, triple, and at the end, quadruple teaming.

It Was a Heartbreaker

By BOB BUTLER
Co-Sports Editor

A short jump shot by Rodger Twitchell with a scant four seconds remaining on the clock proved the difference Saturday night when the University of Massachusetts scored a spine-tingling 92-90 triple overtime victory over SMC.

BAD BREAKS

The loss was a heart-rending one for the Knights to absorb. Hindered by the loss of Vinnie Kazalonis, who didn't play because of a back injury, and also the fouling out of Ed Kryger, the Markeymen battled superior height and bench strength throughout the contest.

Even so, they appeared to have cinched the victory by going ahead, 90-85, with 1:06 left in the final session.

Seven successive UMass points --- four by quick-shooting Pete Bernard, the decision two by Twitchell and a game ending free throw by Charlie Kingston --- turned the trick for the Redmen.

Richie Tarrant, who continued his astronomical scoring with 39 points and Ed Kryger, playing his usual hard-fighting, high scoring game, were magnificent in defeat.

TENSE THROUGHOUT

The game was a dog fight throughout --- the first half ending in a 42-42 tie and the second half showing an 80-80 dead-lock. During this span the lead changed hands no less than 29 times.

The Knights, giving away anywhere from two to four inches of height at each position, were forced to play possession ball in the extra frames. Only four points were scored in the first overtime and both teams were zeroed in the second five minutes.

The decisive canto began then with an 82-82 tie. UMass' Painter put his team ahead with a foul shot but Phil Taylor's jumper gave the Knights an 84-83 lead with 3:50 to go. John Jachym expanded this margin to 85-83, making good on one of two foul shots.

Twitchell then tied things up again with his patented one-hander.

A fine-twisting drive by Taylor and an equally brilliant three-point play by Brian Quinn gave

Massachusetts' O'Rourke seeks to block Tarrant in Saturday's tight game. Jim Dooley is at right. (Duganphoto)

SMC their seemingly safe 90-85 lead.

The Redmen wasted little time in getting their offensive gear in motion as Bernard narrowed the Purple lead to 90-89 with two neat jump shots from 18 feet out, setting the stage for Twitchell's game-winning hoop.

HOOP TALK: Ed Kryger, in addition to posting 22 vital points, did a strong job off the boards and also held the high-scoring Twitchell to a mere 18 points .... Tarrant hit on 15 of 16 free throws .... His maneuvering around the basket was also nothing short of amazing as his 12 well earned field goals will attest .... Charlie O'Rourke and Jim Benjamin, two 6'7" giants, were frustrated completely by Richie's varied assortment of moves and shots. In the end it took three men to hold the cool SMC center down... Phil Taylor displayed wonderful poise in registering four overtime points as well as teaming up with backcourt mate Bill Cummins on some tight ball control tactics.... Jim Dooley was very impressive in his rough board work and timely scoring. Three of his baskets kept the Knights battling in the early stages of the game. The last time, UMass won 84-82 in Double overtime. Next time?

UNH Game Tonight

St. Michael's basketball team will attempt to regain its winning ways against two New Hampshire foes.

Friday night the Knights were off to the University of New Hampshire, SMC's third Yankee Conference foe of the season. On Monday night they will tangle with the Hawks of St. Anselm's College at Manchester.

New Hampshire's Wildcats are known to have a powerful team, having beaten Dartmouth College and Massachusetts handily and having won a squeaker over the University of Rhode Island. One of their losses came at the hands of Boston University, and that by only six points.

St. Anselm's, while not having the record that New Hampshire does, is always a formidable club. The Hawks are led by two of St. Michael's most feared opponents, Myles Dorch, one of the best college players in New England, and speedy Tony Greer who is on the road to breaking an all-time scoring record for St. Anselm's.

During the 1962-63 season, the Hawks had a fine 16-6 record. The Knights beat them 70-68 last year, but only after staging a last second come-back.
